

Executive Summary

The organization is launching its third-year regional Individual Development Plan (IDP) initiative, but completion rates remain in the bottom three out of twelve regions. A previous vendor-designed program was rejected by senior HR for lacking engagement, feeling overly academic, and failing to reflect company culture.

To meet the fixed launch date (within 2 months), we propose two targeted, connected training tracks:

1. In-person leadership workshop for Executive Leadership Team and HR Americas (focus: attitude, motivation, strategic enablement, and co-creation of an “Ultimate IDP Guide”).
2. Blended (in-class + vILT) training for managers and employees (focus: practical knowledge, system skills, and guided IDP creation using the leader-developed guide).

Expected outcome: Significant increase in regional IDP completion rates by Q1 talent review, through improved buy-in, role clarity, communication, and CRM proficiency.

1. Organizational Context & Business Drivers

- Third-year push for IDPs across regions as part of global talent management strategy.
- Persistent low completion rates signal gaps in understanding, motivation, and execution.
- Talent team terminated vendor contract after negative HR feedback: “felt forced,” “college-like,” “low participation,” “missing company culture.”
- Goal: Drive higher IDP adoption to strengthen talent pipeline, employee engagement, and succession planning.

2. Performance Problems & Root Causes

- Leaders/managers undervalue or misunderstand IDPs’ role in talent development and competitive advantage.
- Employees and managers lack practical knowledge/skills to create high-quality IDPs.
- Ineffective conversations around development plans.
- Low CRM system proficiency for entering objectives, ratings, and feedback.
- Result: Bottom-tier regional completion rates for three consecutive years.

3. Audience Analysis

Audience 1: Leaders (Executive Leadership Team + HR Americas)

- Role: Key influencers in talent strategy; responsible for cascading IDP importance and coaching managers.
- Key challenges: Time constraints, busy schedules; video conferencing not approved.
- Training delivery: In-person only, at multiple locations led by regional Talent Development Managers.

Audience 2: Managers & Employees

- Role: Primary creators and approvers of IDPs in CRM system.

- Key challenges: Large population, varied time zones/schedules; low prior engagement with IDPs.
- Training delivery: Blended – in-person classroom at selected locations + virtual instructor-led (vILT) sessions.

4. Training Needs & Program Goals

Leaders Track – Focus: Attitude/Motivation + Strategic Skills

- Understand IDP's strategic importance for talent management, retention, and organizational competitiveness.
- Master features of high-quality IDPs and experience creating their own.
- Facilitate effective, coaching-oriented IDP conversations.
- Build CRM proficiency for entering/approving employee plans with meaningful feedback.
- Co-create a practical "Ultimate IDP Guide" to cascade to teams.

Managers & Employees Track – Focus: Knowledge/Skills + Practical Application

- Recognize personal/organizational benefits of effective IDPs.
- Navigate CRM system to create, update, and finalize IDPs.
- Apply criteria to evaluate "good" vs. "poor" IDPs.
- Use the leader-developed Ultimate IDP Guide + communication best practices to draft their own high-quality IDP.

5. Proposed Learning Objectives (ABCD format, aligned to Bloom's Revised Taxonomy)

Leaders Track

- Given the organization's talent management framework and competitive landscape, leaders will explain the strategic importance and business impact of effective IDPs to their teams with confidence (Analyze/Evaluate – Attitude/Motivation).
- Given common barriers to IDP adoption, leaders will propose targeted mitigation strategies during workshop discussions (Evaluate/Create).
- Given best practices in IDP design and conversation facilitation, leaders will collaboratively develop an "Ultimate IDP Guide" ready for team distribution (Create).
- Given the CRM system, leaders will demonstrate accurate entry of employee objectives, ratings, and constructive feedback in a guided simulation (Apply).

Managers & Employees Track

- Given the Ultimate IDP Guide, learners will list key personal and organizational benefits of high-quality IDPs in a reflective exercise (Remember/Understand).
- Given sample IDPs, learners will evaluate them against defined quality criteria and achieve $\geq 80\%$ accuracy (Analyze).
- Given the CRM system and Ultimate IDP Guide, learners will create a draft personal IDP meeting $\geq 90\%$ quality rating (Apply/Create).

6. Constraints & Logistics

- Tight timeline: Must launch within 2 months.
- Budget: Limited; focus on high-impact, low-cost facilitation.
- Leaders: In-person only; time-boxed sessions due to executive schedules.
- Managers/Employees: Blended (classroom + vILT) to accommodate scale and time zones.
- No video conference for leaders track (client directive).

7. Recommended Instructional Strategies

- Leaders Track:
 - Inquiry-based / collaborative learning (4-step: essential questions → resource exploration → solution matching → guide creation).
 - High participation via guided dialogue, peer contribution, and co-ownership of the final IDP Guide. Avoid lecture-heavy format.
- Managers/Employees Track:
 - Scenario-based + hands-on practice (system demos, guided creation using the new Guide, peer review of drafts).
 - Output = personal IDP draft + action plan.

Both tracks incorporate adult learning principles (relevance, problem-solving, immediate application) and inclusive design (multiple participation modes, clear visuals, accessible materials).

8. Success Measures & Evaluation Plan

- Level 1 (Reaction):
 - Post-session survey – perceived value, engagement, relevance (target $\geq 4.2/5$).
- Level 2 (Learning):
 - Pre/post knowledge checks + observed CRM simulation (leaders); IDP draft quality rating $\geq 90\%$ (employees).
- Level 3 (Behavior):
 - Follow-up audit of IDP conversation quality and CRM usage (spot checks 4–6 weeks post-training).
- Level 4 (Results):
 - Regional IDP completion rate increase (target: move out of bottom three; measured at Q1 talent review).
